

write on there so that we can wipe it off you know. But nowadays they just pile it up.

(Did you speak English before you came to Rainy Mountain?)

No, we had to learn. We had to learn. We don't..we had to learn and now all little children like grandchildren or like..they don't even know how to talk English. But we had to learn English. They teach us, you know. They write on a blackboard when I first started to school. I started to school over here at Methodist School. It was built right along this home somewhere. But there was school. That was boarding school but the member of the church, the baptize them.

(Where was this?)

Baptize them? That's the way the Methodist are. But the one I've know..I mean taught..the Baptist go under the water. So...

(Did you go this Methodist school?)

Myself. This was a boarding school and I went over here.

(When did you go?)

Before I went to Rainey Mountain. I was about five years old. Just like I said, I was kind of an orphan. My daddy just kind of stake me to that school and see how I get along and then I went to..she tried me at the Catholic school too. But I didn't like it. They kind of middle down you know. But all those that went to school there were just like..weather they want to or not..they baptize babies. They don't know anything about from right to wrong. they just baptize them. And the Methodist..little children they baptize. Baptist they got to grow, they have to. . and we were all about the same ages. about 10 up. So that's were we were all baptized.'

(Did any of the children there not like the school?)

Oh, some of the, they don't like it. They run off, you know. They go. There's a mountain there and they go well walk you might say. They just take a notion and walk off. And that school was going pretty good till the towns like Mt. View, like Anadarko..the children begin to like the town. They want to go to school there. And that's way that Rainy Mountain school went. They just had to
