

ones got to guess where it's out, and them shoes -- ..

(Oh, they put the bead inside?)

Yeah.

(I see.)

I didn't see them play long, you know. They -- I guess they used to play, you know, kind of moccasins.

(Yeah.)

You know.

(Yeah.)

Moccasin, we call it Moccasin Game.

(Did the Wichita play that?)

Well, I wouldn't know, you know, but I see that old man, He play -- . .

(Yeah.)

-- like Moccasin Hand Game, look like, you know.

(Yeah.)

I didn't see them play long, you know.

(Yeah.)

They just -- they must both laugh, you know. You know, I guess they had lot of fun, you know. This man was Comanche, you know.

(Yeah.)

ARROW THROWING GAME

That's about all the games I know, you know. Oh, yeah, I forgot this arrow -- I don't know whatever, you know, they call it. I think (Wichita Indian word), something like javalin, you know, but they make their arrows about that long, you know.

(Yeah.)

They throw them, you know. I guess the one that could throw the farthest,
