

him, "I died long time ago."

(Who was this person?)

Eh....I can't call his name.

(Was he a chief or something?)

Yeah. And this is a spirit or ---you know. Talking to the bird. Ah...that bird told him every person died it turned into ah..owl. That second life you see. Ah....they prayed to everything. Snakes, birds, they prayed to 'em. And ah...the spirits from them. They know what to do.

CRAZY HILL STORY

(Do you remember any stories about Crazy Hill?)

That's jealous---jealous. (Wife interrupts and says; They kill him for jealous.)

I'll tell you another story. They call it "Crazy Hill." And it was north of Ft. Cobb. That little hill out there. There was a person. He had pretty looking, pretty wife. (Wife asks: Who was he?) Big Bow.

(Was he Kiowa?)

Kiowa. He had a pretty wife, pretty looking wife. And another person got her.

Ah...Big,...Big Bow he's jealous because he's got his wife. And he make up his mind he gonna kill this person. And he did it.

(Who was this person?)

That's why they call it "Crazy Hill." The man got killed on top of that hill.

(Wife repeats latter question: Who was that other man?) I don't know.

(Was he Kiowa too?)

Yeah. That's the story. Big Bow, he just died a while back. Ten years ago.

(Are people afraid to go there now?)

No. (Informant does not fully understand and wife repeats question in Kiowa Language.)

I don't know, they might be. They might be afraid to go out there. I don't know.
