

SAINDAY AND THE POUNDED MEAT

He said they come up to this camp. And Sainday was there. And it's just like he's always--he is moseying along, in every story. He starts off like that. He said these people had a big pan of pounded meat. And he acted like he was starving, you know, when he seen these people preparing all that stuff. He kept looking. And he knows they were preparing something to eat. So he seen that it was meat. So these people said, "Hey, around here--where we came through here--the people are starving." Look--there is one laying down over there. We better go take it over there." So they start over there. So they roll him over. And they say, "Hey, you're starving. You must be awful weak. Take four bites of this pounded meat," they said. So he did. When he did that, well, these people got busy again. So he run again and he laid down somewhere else again. Just down the line he kept doing that, you know. So finally they caught up with him, and they said, "Hey, that's the same man we've been feeding. What's the matter with him? Is he crazy or what?" Pretty soon one of them says, "Hey, that's Sainday!" they said. So they chase him away!

SAINDAY TRIES TO CATCH A WOMAN WHILE ENTICING DEER INTO TRAP

He said they went to a different country, like a different state and Sainday was in the group. Where they were at, there was a lot of snow, you know. There was just nothing but snow. You couldn't find anything to eat, you know. So people were starving in that camp. So one of these mens came up to Sainday and said, "What should we do? Our children and our wives are starving. What are we going to do?" he said. "We are going to have to get out and look for deer. Get some meat so our people won't
