

prayed.)

Yeah, yeah.

(Was--was--was that---?)

Well, it's a prayer.

(Was there any other kind of ceremony before the game?)

Yeah, yeah, everything is ceremony, you know.

(Yeah, yeah.)

Yes, sir, that's how it's done.

(Yeah. You--do you know what they said in that prayer?)

Huh?

(Do you know what they said in that prayer?)

Well, they---

(What words they gave?)

Well, it's just any kind of--well, when you pray, you know, you want to-- you're going to do this, and I don't nobody to get hurt, anything like that.

(I see.)

And I want this game to start good and end up good. That's what they-- they have to do it.

(Yeah.)

They have a game, you know. They, oh, they used to play every, you know, every other Sundays when they have gatherings, you know.

(Oh, they did?)

Well, that's about all, you know.

(Yeah.)

Well, they come to this archery---

(I got some more questions?)
