

them touch them that way, two ways, you know, just like that, and some of them like that. They didn't--they didn't aim. It's just a kind of a guess like, you know.

(Yeah. Will you show me the way they catch the arrows again?)

What?

(Will you show me those two way of catching a arrow again?)

Oh, the stick I saw--well, they--- (Could you use that?)

See, here's a--got a little fork like that.

(Yeah.)

Where you put the string. Oh, gosh, catch them, you know, just like that, you know. Oh, my dad, he catches them like that. He puts his other finger on top like that, you know, kind of three ways, you know. That's the way I see them shoot them--maybe, some of them have different ways, you know. But you can make your--make your arrows. If you fool with arrows, you know how to, you know, make them weight.

(Yeah.)

How long you want them. You want them big. Some of them have them big.

(Yeah.)

Pretty good size.

(Mmm-hmm.)

But I don't know. They was pretty good marksman on arrows, you know.

(Yeah.)

Pretty good size.

(Mmm-hmm.)

But I don't know. They was pretty good marksman on arrows, you know.

(Yeah.)
