

clinic, and then when they try to go to his office over here at the clinic where he works, well, he just won't take them. He tells other people, well, he told me about two times, "You should have been here when the clinic was open." You see, sometimes we don't have no way or no rides. But that's what he always tell us. Yeah, He's just...a lot of them don't like him. Oh, I was going to tell you about my folks.. my father's name was Jim Stone, my mother's Daisy Sone. My dad's kinda half, I must be kinda half, I don't know half...his father was kinda part white and half Cheyenne. I don't know how we're related to these Chapmans up at Seiling. I don't know what year they were born.

(At this point Mary decided she wanted to talk a little bit about Indian doctors.)

If you have pain or something, he relieves the pains and you won't feel it. Oh, a lot of them believes that. Well, anyway, he takes some kind of medicine, gives it to you to drink it...it really helps. And oh, certain kinds of medicines...you know I can't explain it to you what he used.
