

he comes back this girl says, "I'm gonna feed him good. I'm gonna make him get full and then just as soon as he come out I told them two bears that he killed my mother, all right, you kill him for that." She'd just getting back at him for doing what he did. Well, he came the fourth time. Fed him good. She treated him good and gave him something to eat. He started to go out. When he got to the door, well, them bears already standing outside the door. This girl, "Go ahead." Well, them bears caught him and just tore him to pieces and gave him to them lions who just ate him up. He tried to holler for his daughter to call them off. She just turned around and walked away. She didn't do nothing cause he did that to her mother, I guess. End of story.
