

grow to be womanhood, and you might have a grandchildren and you might have great-grandchildren. You going to live up to that long. You be lucky to live that long, and now, I'm living that way and I got grandchildren and I got great-grandchild, now. So I don't know about the others what kind of rules they got, and never knock on the tipi wherever that bundle medicine is. No, don't throw no ball, or hit that tipi.

(Could your daddy paint you that way just because he owned the bundle?)

Well; they said that's the way he supposed to paint in some of his grandchildren...and me. Oh, that's going to rain. Feel that water. (This interview was being conducted in the city park of Apache, and a rainstorm came up at this point.) Well, let it rain..cool off. Yea, that's what I know about Fred's (Bigman another bundle owner.) He say he don't want no kind of a dog, cat, go in that room where that bundle is. If it did, well it, well that cat or dog might die.

Well, what I know, well I always hear it two ways. They call it sayidaye. You know that man that went in the water. And sometimes they call it kodize. Yea and I don't know about the others, like that Gertie (Chalepah) had and like what Ray (Blackbear) had. I heard Ray done away with his, isn't it?

(Well, he didn't do away with it, he gave it to me to take to Norman, because nobody wanted to take it.)

He shouldn't have take it first place, let it went to the right place.

Some people, Apaches talking about it..cause his lost his boy and now his sister hurt, sickly.

(And what are they saying?)

They say it's because he didn't done right with that bundle. And he try to get Fred to give away..said, "You better do away with yours too." He
