

about the others.

(Do you ever open your medicine bundle now?)

Well, I did one time, but nobody there...but I just make smoke you know.

I just talk to it. I say, Good Lord made man and knowledge and wisdom and hand, arm and eye and thought what to do. But I don't know nothing.

But he's the man that make this one, because everything come from God.

I said, I never thought nothing..it came to me. Now I'm trying to clear up inside, straighten up inside (i.e. the contents of the bundle.) And I just told it to forgive me, because I don't know nothing about you, how to handle you but I'm doing it. It never did try to hurt me.

(Thunder sounded.) Here..we're talking about this. Rain's going come.

Yea, I don't know what Kiowa medicine or Apache medicine they said like that..that owner, like Gertie or somebody like owner, me I guess. You have water, just pour it on them they say going to come big rain. Well I don't know.

(If you pour water on what?)

Like if you pour water on me. That's what I heard, I don't know what..

(Where did those four bundles come from?)

Well, it come from mine that I know, what I heard..come from way back, my great-great-grandpa. And here come..and that's where I learn, from my great-great-grandpa. I don't know how it's made and how it all sacked up and everything and my great grandpa had it and here comes my grandpa had

it. My grandpa had it and my daddy had it. People men dying dying. And it come to..it's got to be in kinfolk. It come to Sam Klinekole..that's my daddy's cousins boy..the closest they could get to it. So he got it when my daddy died. He had it all the time all the time. And I don't know who was next else relation, but me. But my brother had it, Homer Saddleblanket.
