

cave and he couldn't see nothing. It was dark way back there, but this is where these little people come out from. That's what he said, He said, "I really did see them. They had little bitty bows, arrows. I don't see what they eat. He was just a little bitty man. You all can see their tracks." They had little bitty tracks. They had all kind of tracks in front of that cave, and it was nice and clean and it was sandy and you could see their tracks just all over that ground where they come out and go back into that cave. I guess that's where they live. And mountains where they can't find them. I guess that's what they done. But the Indians always talk about...all the Indians knows there's little peoples somewheres like that and they always tell their children other peoples' seen them too. They seen those peoples like that. I don't know whether they're real, living or not. Maybe they all died and I don't know. That's what this man told, told my grandmother, and my grandmother told me that story.

(Was there anything special that these little people were supposed to be able to do?)

I don't know, cause he just seen them like that, with them little bows and arrows. And they was real tiny people...two or three mans, and a woman. The woman had long hair that came way down here and she was about that big. (Real small.)

(How were these little people dressed?)

They didn't have nothing on. They were all naked. And they didn't have nothing on. They were just naked.

(And there were just a few of them?)

I don't know, there might be a bunch of them in there, the way it shows... that track where they come out from under that cave. So there must be