

Mr.: And chickens with their eyes blowed plumb full of mud. I thought they was killed... (unclear) and a eyes blowed full of mud. And I think me and my wife went to washing her head. And I know after that there's chickens come to our house belong to other people. And I told da story up here and it wasn't much of a story.

Mrs.: Well, you're not telling that right. This fella over 'bout Mountain View said that it blowed their, his wash pot, old, big, iron wash pot inside out, well, now, and he described a little bit of it. And said that ain't nothin'. Said it blowed a rooster and jure out of my house.

Mr.: There was a fella here and he a, hada, I told it. By God, he believed it.

Mrs.: Now, he didn't believe it to t.

Mr.: Well, a fella _____

Mrs.: He asked me when you went to Chickasaw if I still had that rooster and that jug.

Mr.: Oh, it was sold. And everything was going up the creek... and people have long mouth. And I was laughing and talking. _____ the rattle of a fella

I ever saw to lose everything you had. Well, I said, well, you were kind to t. But the people was good. The American Legion was a fair good to us people. They come out and stretched us up tents and one time come with a whirlwind one night and... it you run in' to, it Addie Clover run out and broke his toe on a stob.

Mrs.: And he was talking about the tent... un-s-y. Now everybody was un-s-y.

Mr.: People _____ fella it was one a night with one night. The first night, I ever used to see the tent come after night and it just pop, pop, pop, and the tent come to the ground and Addie Clover hit a dead stump and broke his toe.

Mrs.: The American Legion, the tent, the tent 50 tents from the Army and 400 tents and I think 200 tents for the people. See it to t. it a town it. just a was on a everybody got it a tent... miles south of town across the country. But there was...

Mr.: We know a lot of those people didn't appreciate and take care of those tents. They cut holes in 'em. And they claimed that I turned back the best tent there was. And I turned back ever stob that was with the tent except one. And I was short one stob and...

Mrs.: And broke it off tryin' to get it out. They're the ones who broke it in the
