

r. T.: Well, I renew my objections, because those sections of the manual just read don't sustain the senses that I read in the hearing summary, that I objected to initially. And if that's where their suppose to come from, well, there's no basis for them, at least none yet shown.

r. D.: This policy says that the eligibility shall be made by the supervisor of Family Service. They have the responsibility of making an extension of time.

referee: You are referring to the 12 month period, is that correct?

r. D.: Yes.

r. T.: Each time in the notice granting extension if the extension was granted with first land sale where the property could be eligible for sale occurs prior to 12 month period.

I move that the 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6th paragraph be stricken in its entirety for being unintelligible, in the hearing.

In the next paragraph, the 7th paragraph beginning May, 1969, etc. it says land was offered for sale at a bid of $6400 was received for the land. Now, is that sentence as I read it, supported by records in the Delaware County Department of Welfare?

Mrs. E.: Yes.

Mr. T.: Let me see those, please.

Had Mr. O'Field stated to the worker that it had been offered for $6400? He not think this was adequate?

Mrs. E.: No he didn't. He....

referee: You might identify what you have there in that particular section.

Mrs. E.: This is page 45 of the narrative of Joe O'Field's C case.

Referee: What section or date in particular?

Mrs. E.: The date 6-4-69.
(there is a long pause between conversations).

Mr. T.: I thought I understood this was a conversation with Mr. O'Field you were not to, instead, this is a conversation with Mr. Daugherty. Is that what this is on, this conversation with Mr. Daugherty?

What is it in this your referring to? Other than the date 6-4-69?

Mrs. E.: You want this in the records? On Page 45 of the narrative section of Mr. O' case 6-4-69 Indian Property. A call was made to the Indian Branch, Bureau of Affairs, Muskogee, Oklahoma, Mr. Daugherty of that office was questioned on the recent land sale. According to Mr. Daugherty the land had been offered on land sales. This is the first time they had received a bid at the Bureau of Affairs and that bid had been $6400. Mr. O'Field declined this offer stating felt the property was worth twice that amount. The Bureau at this time is to the property from their land sales listings, and it would not be put up for unless Mr. O'Field requested that they do so. Mr. Daugherty was questioned on the Bureau's feelings that this was commensurate return. He stated that he
