

Mrs. E.: No.

Mr. T.: That sentence does not have anything to do with Mr. Daugherty or what he is to or said or what Mr. O'Field is suppose to have said. But it is a fact is. the extension was terminated regardless whether anything in here is or not.

Mr. D.: The extension was terminated.

Mr. T.: Alright, I have no objection to that much of the sentence that the extension terminated but I object to the remainder of it and the beginning part of it same basis as my objection to the first sentence that it is not supported by factual, it is not a fact and does not belong in a summary of facts. Now, the third sentence, Mr. O'Field was contacted concerning his decision and the reason of closing his case since he was not willing to make his resources available. Is that a fact or is that something else?

Mrs. E.: That's a fact.

Mr. T.: Is it a fact that Mr. O'Field was contacted?

Mrs. E.: That's a fact.

Mr. T.: Who contacted him?

Mrs. E.: I did.

Mr. T.: What was his decision that he was contacted about?

Mrs. E.: The fact that he had failed to accept a bid and make his resources available live on and that the necessity of closing his case due to excess resources.

Mr. T.: Is that a conclusion of yours or is that a fact?

Are you saying that it was Mr. O'Field's decision and not the Bureau of Indian Affairs decision?

Mrs. E.: To not accept the bid?

Mr. T.: Not willing to make these resources available to him.

Mrs. E.: It was Mr. O'Fields decision.

Mr. T.: Not to make this resource available to him?

Mrs. E.: Yes.

Mr. T.: On what basis; on what date did you contact him?

Mrs. E.: I contacted him so many times I don't know exactly which one. I'll have to. On the 27th I talked to him in the office and his home on the 28th of May.

Referee: We're concerned here with the particular date you discussed this matter with as outlined in the summary.

Mrs. E.: That's the date I gave him.

Mr. T.: What was the date you spoke with Mr. Daugherty? Was that June the 4th?

Mrs. E.: Yes.
