

that certain time of the month came I was not to swish around a child or straddle a child or step over them, because the odor of it will cause a child to be sick sooner or later. I was also told not to talk with my son-in-law. I was told to love my people and to share the best I have with them. If you must give, then see that the gift goes so that it will not come back.