

(Would I still have it?)

Yeah, you still have it.

(So he would be named after me.)

Yeah, he would be named after you. Yeah. Just like for instance now we got we, we, we in our third, we like just one more if we was to have a one. Alright this my uncle, John Teehee. His name is, his Indian name is (Comanche). He given it to my smallest brother. My smallest brother he's got a boy by these Topi's, Mae Topi's daughter got a boy by her. Alright that's the one name, Johnny too, it got into our third and we like one more. Little Johnny, now, Mae Topi's grandson if he was to have another boy, that's the fourth we'll name we'll name that way. We in our third name now. Now Mae Topi's little grandson he used, since my brother got killed he used to be married to her, her daughter, Mae Topi's daughter. And they got little boy and his name is Johnny. Alright that's the third Johnny right there.

(Yeah.)

And if he get, grow up and get him a wife why have a boy, why there'd be the fourth and stop right there.

(You just go four.)

Yeah, go four.

(What does, when does a child get his name? Right when he's born?)

Yeah, right when he's born.

(Or?)

Yeah right when he's born. But some of them right now for instance, some of them, call one of these, old man, such as that Big Bow he wants to name a person why he could give them a name. Or he could give them his name, he just like that now.

GIVE AWAY HORSES - COWS OR OTHER THINGS

(Are you supposed to give them something?)

Yeah. They have to give when the person give them a name, why they have to
