

(I guess the colored had their own restaurant--they couldn't eat in the depot?)

They got restaurants now where they can eat--(not clear)--

(But now then--)

I guess they could eat. But most all the old men, they all died out, all around here. (not clear)--Choctaw. All gone. All old timers gone. Old ladies gone. (He is talking about the older people having died and the rest of his sentence is not clear).

(I was going to ask you--you said earlier, that you used to carry a gun. What kind of gun did you carry?)

Yeah. I did. I used to--papa used to send me out you know, to look it over. Just send me out by myself. West--my land (not clear) say go look at your land. Look at your land yourself--just by myself, you know. Put me in (not clear) and send me out there. Land up there at Comanche, up the other side of Chickasha. Way down in there. 160 over there.

(That's good land. When have you seen it?)

Haven't seen it in ten year now. They got oil field out there, the last I was over there. But it close up, 'bout five years. But they've opened up now. Homestead that--(not clear)--that lease. I got--

(End of Side A.)