

Um-hum. First time I married a man by the name of Philip Thompson. My old mans nephew then, he died and then I married Elius Thompson. (Philip Tompson was your first husband?)

Uh-huh.

(He died and then you married Elius who was the uncle of Philip?)

(unintelligible, pop)

(There is so too. Pop said he belives on family --)

(Pop: You know Jimmy Thompson?)

Jimmy Thompson? No, I don't believe I do--but he use to talk about him. I didn't know him but he use to say something about--Thompson.

(Pop: He use to be judge up here at TaliChina.

(Judge, in Talihina .. That's my grandpa, his daddy was Gilbert.)

He was?

(Uh-huh. And I know on that record there's an Elius Thompson in our family record you know, the roll numbers and so forth. What's your roll number?)

#11465

(11465, roll number.)

I remember that easy. I just repeat it till I know my roll number.

(All those Choctaws can remember their roll numbers.)

(unintelligible)

(What were the clothes like that you wore when you were there?)

Oh, they was just plain dresses like this, but they was made I guess, they was new ones. But I don't know why. All the dresses was just print. I guess it's the way they made the old time way. That's why they wanted us to wear them to school. We had to use those after we get there, everybody did.
