

(Did he trade them for things?)

Oh, I never did see him trade them for things.

(Did you like to ride horses when you were young?)

Yeah. I..my brother and me. My brother have..my brother "Knocks"

(Eng. trans.=Ears.) we used to..down here where we live..used to have them corrals...wooden corrals just lay like this.. We drive horses, just one, two year old colt. We see however could ride them, Little one.

(Did you all break your own horses?)

Yeah, we break our own horses...them days.

(Was there any special way to do that or did you just get on them, till they throw you off?)

No we get on them and they just throw us off...catch them. He'll tell me to get on again. We catch one and then he get on it and we catch another one and we get on it. That's the...what we do with them colts now.

(Did you have any special things you did to kind of help out breaking them?)

Well, we had to catch them with a rope. You can't catch them without no rope you know..wild ones.

(Did they brand them in any way?)

We had a brand..we had a brand like of a ...my father had a brand was a..made like a arrow. Just like this. Like an arrow (  )

That's the we..brand we had..on them horses, cattle.

(Back there when you were young, did your family ever go into Ft.

Sill much?)
