

Nah....I didn't know what it was.

(How long did it take you to learn? Did you learn while you were in school? Did they teach you English?)

Well it took me quite a while to learn how to talk English. They learn me how to talk it.

(Well, did your teacher speak Comanche?)

Nah....

(Well, I was wondering how they could teach you, you know you said they taught you the Bible, how they could teach that when you couldn't speak English and they couldn't speak Comanche?)

Well, I just don't know how they teach us they start teaching us about the Bible. I had long hair when I went in and they cut it off.

(Did you like it going to school or did you want to be someplace else?)

The first time I didn't like it. You know you can't help it when they put you in, but after I got use to it, it was all right.

(Did they make you, did you all have to dress any certain way? While you were there?)

Yeah.

(Were they like uniforms you wore or ...? Did they...you just wear any kind of clothes?)

Yeah, they did have some for a while, uniforms....and then the government just quit giving it to 'em. We had uniforms when I went into some of them little short knee pants.

(What did you do after you graduated out of the fourth grade? What did you do after that? Let's see, you were about 11 years old, or 12, right?)

I didn't do too much. I didn't go to school then.

(Was your father and mother still alive?)

Yeah, they was still alive.
