

Everytime they get up down in the bottom, try to climb up. They rool them big rocks down and they'd run these other ones back, and they just keep going and keep going and finally they kill quite a few of us there among the Kiowas tribe. They kill womans and childrens, just cut their throats. They all just laying all over there. So what was left they went on up that mountain. Went way up there and they couldn't get to them. They scared to go up there because those womans and those young boys, you know, and a few men was up there with them protecting them womans and childrens what was left. So they couldn't go up any further to try to get the rest of them so they give up and they left. They went on back to their own village wherever they live, way back east. So just about a day after that the big chiefs they come in, all the warriors, they come in, they come in over there and they seen what happened. All them womans their--they cut their wives throats and their childrens throats. Kids laying over her and and body over there--just made a mess. So they never stopped just went right on chasing them. They went and seen when they were they going. There was a big band of them so they could tell it was a big band of them so they followed. In about two days they caught them up way out here east some-where, way over there, caught them out there you know, in a big place in the timber and caught them there, so they waited till just about daybreak. They talk among themselves and said, "We'll wait and we'll surround that place and just about daybreak while they sleep good that's when we'll go and ambush them." So they went ahead and they waited and just about time morning comes towards mornin, they ambush them, they all went around there. Just cleaned everyone of them out. They didn't leave one. They kill everyone of them that destroyed their tribe over here. They payed it back to them. There wasn't one of them left to go back home. Cleaned them out. That's the reason why what Kiowas left it made them a less tribe. Wasn't too many of them, but that other tribe what I was telling you about, well they're a smaller tribe then we are. The other Kiowas that left from that place they're a lost tribe. Never did found them. So that's where the old man was, a little baby when that happened. That Cut
