

(Then what happened after that?)

She got some things out of her bag. She had a little bag and took it out. She got the leaves out and put that bull durham sack on top of it. And there's three or four on top of it. Then she said, I want you to pity me and believe that I'm your sister and I want you right now and you doctor my little girl." Any time I just believe she's my sister and I thought I might as well go try. Try and see what I could do for her. And I said, "Alright I'll go." And said, "You all start right now." Their car was parked out there. And I said, "You go right now." I said, "Going as soon as they get ready." And I said, "I might wait a little bit. I've got to get my medicine and put them together and in my box." So if I touch you if you be treating too you all don't need it so, they ain't no use in my doctoring. I just told her this, fine you know. And there that there were Indian ghosts you know. They say that you, if I touch you here then in your home I'm not going to do you no good.

(Now what does that mean?)

That means that might be pretty bad off and you can't help them. You can't you done well, on getting well. That's what we say to them. When you doctor you say that. A lot of people don't, lot of Indians that doctors, the old people when I hear them they say that and that's what I said to her. Alright and they took out. And (not clear) go right back in this house you know. This house where they lived back here about four miles. (Next sentence not clear.)

(Uh-huh.)

CURES A TWISTED FACE - PROCEDURE

And so we go over there. Course she was pretty bad off. She was all twisted up. Her face and her eyes this way and her mouth this way. Her saliva was just coming out in bed right here. And I told them, "You all build
