

know. -

(Back of your place here?)

Yeah. Kinda 'bout $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles, I guess. They had a bigggg stomp dance. I was a little girl. I know that. Mamma take me down there. I watch 'em and I couldn't hardly sleep. They danced all night and stomp out there. I don't want to sleep. I was afraid. (Laughter) Then Mamma come early in morning - 'bout daylight. We start come back. Mamma was sleepy and ununnnnnn I was sleepy. Mamma told me " You should sleep out there. I told you and we fix you bed in wagon while ago and go to bed and sleep. You wont do it. We comin' down the road and I'm sleepy. Way back yonder, I just turned road on side you know and big old tree, I just bumped my head. (Laughter) Mamma told me " You sleep, you sure sleepy." Bump again.

(You go to any stomp dances since then?)

Yeah.

(Have you gone to other dances?)

No. I never been they move - they move up there. They over way yonder. I guess they had it now close to Marble City. They started up there at Beaver Mountain up there. After that they didn't do no good. Least not like it is up there and meetin' ever month. You know, ever two week.

BALL GAME DESCRIBED

They play ball you know. Throw it way up there. They had posts. They got long posts. They got cow head in there. They bump their head right there. Somebody win it.

(They got cow head on top the post?)

Yeah.

(They throw balls at it.) (Laughter)
