

day he was doing that, back and forth. This was Medicine Creek.

It comes from Mount Scott and Mount Sheridan. And this Canyon creek comes in here, too. There was lot of Indian lands up there, but they moved them out. It's like in cities when they want to build something--a highway--through town--if you got a house right in the way, they just move you out, even if you don't want to.

The church cemetery is way up on the hill--east of here. We'll see it next time.

There used to be a little town down here, too. That's where the little Red Store used to be. Way down there, but you can't see it because of those trees. That's where the Indian camp was and the Indian Agent used to be there.

This preacher here now is Zotigh. He used to be the preacher at Hog Creek, west of Anadarko. They moved him way up out here.

Yeah, I been all over this place when I was a kid, horseback.

In them slick hills.
