

OLD MAN CHIBATOH:

(You know this Old Man Chibato--you said he was half Comanche and half Mescalero Apache. I wonder what his history is--do you remember anything about where his folks came from?)

I don't know. Just--well, the old man came from the west--(unintelligible sentence due to barking dogs)--and it might have been from the Geronimo men. That's where they originated. But I don't know much about that, cause--like I said--my grandfather never did tell me any story about that. But my grandmother did. She told me all about her story. And that Kiowas knows about it, and it's a true story--just what happened.
