KIOWA-APACHE BELIEFS CONCERNING THEIR NORTHERN ORIGIN

BACKGROUND OF INFORMANT:

Alfred Chalepah was born in 1910 and has lived all his life in the vicinity of Anadarko, Fort Cobb and Apache. He has been active in tribal affairs for many years and is a leader and spokesman of his people. Several times he has served on the C-A-C Business Committee, and has been a director for the Kiowa-Apache on the Anadarko Indian Exposition committee. He is a participant in Native American Church activities and has the right to conduct meetings. He is a leader in the Chalepah group's Kiowa-Apache Blackfoot Dance organization, having inherited the office of "Whip Man" from his uncle, Apache John. Although Alfred has had little formal education, having completed through the sixth grade at Riverside Indian School, he is extremely knowledgeable in almost every area of tribal life, and he is very anxious that his tribal traditions be preserved and the condition of American Indians be made known.

NOTE: Apache Ben Chaletsin, Alfred Chalepah's step-father, loved to travel and visit other tribes, and he had contacts with many Indians all over the country through his work in Native American Church activities. He had considerable money from oil wells on his lands, and he travelled extensively, often asking Alfred to go with him and drive. On this particular trip the object was a visit to the Crow Indians of Montana, but, apparently somewhere
