

these. I'm gonna go way over to that mountain over there. I'm coming over. When I come back, I finish these ones." He's gonna save it. "I be hungry when I come back." Now he went. And after, later on-- I don't know how long he stay--he's coming back. "Now, I'm going finish my plums." He come near to the bushes. He look at the bushes and no plums is in there. No plums. He just stand there and he says, "I wonder who eat my plums. That old big, old big-mouth, big-tongue, big-teeth, big-?" He don't know who it is but he just say that. "That old big-mouth eat my plums up! That old stinker-feet!" When I tell this, my son always just laugh! He don't know who it is, but he just mad and talk. "That old big old big thing! Big mouth and big stinker-feet! Big hands! Eat my plums!" And he was just--oh he was just-- And somebody got up from the bushes and a big black bear! He just hold him. "Now, you mean me because you see me and you call me all kind of names! I'm going kill you right now! I'm going to eat you up!" And Sainday don't know what to do. He just hold him behind like that. And Sainday says, "Well, my friend! You're my good friend. What's wrong with you. I'm just talk joke with you!" See, he cheat him. "I'm just talk joke with you. You don't have to take it, my friend. You're my uncle. I call you my uncle." And that bear said, "All right, I'll let you go this time. I'm going to go now." He let him go. "Zapodl! You old thing. You big-mouth eating my plums! You old stinker-feet!" He turn back again. "What did you call me?" "Oh, I'm just playing. I'm talking to myself." "No, you mean me." He said, "No, I'm just joke with you, my uncle. You're my own uncle, ain't it?" "I don't know who's my uncle--" "Why you be my daddy! You call me daddy!" "No, I got no daddy!" He let him go. Now. He went again. He went way off. "That old zapodl going up there eat my plums! You old big-mouth and stinky-feet!" Now he come back. "Now this time I'm going sure eat you up!" He catch him. He pretty near-- "No, no, my daddy! No, my uncle!" He take him (a) all kinda uncle,
