BACKGROUND OF INFORMANT:

Birdie Burns was in her mid-sixties during the time of these interviews. She was born and raised in the Clinton area by traditionally oriented parents and knows a great many old time stories and much information about the former Cheyenne way of life. Her father was Kias, a sub-chief or band chief, and her mother was Sage Woman. Her father's father was Middle Wolf (Wolf-Going-Through-A-Crowd), and her mother's father was High Backed Wolf, who, among other things, participated in the Battle of Adobe Walls. Birdie was raised in the Mennonite Church but in recent years has joined the Baptist Church. Her father was a peyote man for a time, but gave this religion up when his son, Birdie's brother, died and became active in the Mennonite movement. Birdie has been married to Ed Burns for many years and they have one son, Edmond Burns, and a daughter. She also has a son by a previous marriage.

NOTE: Birdie's husband, Ed Burns, was present at this interview and participated a few minutes at the beginning of each side of the tape. The transcriptions of the Cheyenne terms given here are only approximate.--J. Jordan.
