

up and said, "Let the first one out. It's a young one." So when they let the other ones out, well, they said, "Now all of you all catch two a piece." So they all got two. Two deers apiece.

(Now is this a real story? A tru story?)

Yeah.

(What was his grandmother's name?)

do.bedai

(Charlie: That's like, "She went in the front." Like in the front - - passing through a crowd - - do.bedai)

(Now who is dohw.?)

(Charlie: That's his grandpa.)

That's my kinfolk, too. That's her daddy - - (daddy of do.bedai)

(Some irrevalant conversation - some in Kiowa)

(Charlie: They the only people had the bell. Church bell first. Sold it the otherday, a while back. Sold it here, Fort Sill, It's old.)

Here's another story. Another grandpa. Big grandpa. Big encampment, down in camp. They said, "Here, some wagon coming. (White man coming.) Got flag up there. They got gray team and they got few cows. (Unintelligible words) - - cow got little calf." All of them run out there (Unintelligible words).

They stop. They stop their camp. They come crowd. They watch'em. They got cow. They got wood. Gollar on, too. Got little calfs. Got wagon. Got blue-wheel wagon. Got gray team. Got flag up there.. His wife got off and put up tipi. Get ready. I want it cook-time. Everybody just look at him.

Start to cook breakfast. Start to put coffee in the fire. They all hold this and (smell it, sniff), "Hey, get away, it's no good. Get sick." (Unintelligible words) They 'fraid to smell that bacon, you know, and coffee. They camping
