

the kind of experience they had?)

Yeah, some people do that--tell you what happen. Some of them get scared out and they just quit right there--quit peyote. Afraid they might get that way again. My brother-in-law, he got that way. They'd been drinking peyote tea and he drank too much and got that way. When he got that way, they quit singing. They were singing, them boys, but they quit. And they just left him there. He didn't know what to do. He said, "Towards morning I heard something coming out--shaking the earth. I went outside and looked out that way, and boy, there were lot of pretty colors--all kind of feathers--these parrot feathers, coming out like that. And pretty soon that thing shaking this--standing there, shaking and something was coming out. Pretty soon it come out. It was the sun," he said. "Soon as that thing came out I got all right," he said.

No. They'd just been drinking tea. And they were singing. He drank too much and they all quit it and went home. "I come to right there," he said, "Soon as that sun--" That's what the old people always say. You can stand out there and you can hear that sun coming out. The earth will be shaking. And that morning star, you can see the colors--the different colors. Yeah. Things like that, you can look at something and it will turn into something else--tree or something, will turn into something else. You look on the ground and you see lot of pretty flowers, and things like that. That's how come when they're having meeting, they have to clean up good in there, in the tipi. Lay all that sage. But if you just lay grass and everything in there, when you get that way, it's going to be rough on you. And that moon, you have to fix that moon, in a good way. They make it look good in there. They say after midnight when you get that peyote (effect), that's when you look around. You want to know what that thing's there for--that road or that moon or that peyote or that whistle. You want to know--there's a lot of
