

SMALLPOX EPIDEMIC:

And I remember too, I was asking my husband if that was the time this, that small pox killed a lot of people and I just remember it like a dream there was a building there just east from that Pascal's store. East from there building and there was lot of camps through there, lot of Indian camps through there, they taken all their kids to have them vacinate. And my mama took us up there and I was crying I was scared of it and I remember that I was asking my husband, "Was it the time that those people died from that smallpox?" He said yes. I was just little girl I wasn't going to school when that happened I remember that.

HUSBAND'S DREAM:

She told me one time, we was having camp meeting, east of Cache Creek over there. I was just a young girl him my dad and his wife--I was staying with them. We was all living in there, living together through the camp meeting and my husband said that is was during the camp meeting that he went to bed and dreamed that this lady a snake bite him and the people were saying "Oh, the snake bite this (Comanche) this snake bite her." Old man said, something tell him, say, "Snake bite that lady up there." It said, "You go doctor her got to doctor her and get her well. Snake bite. So he woke up and told his mama about it what you know, he dream about ==that lady and then when his mama was still cooking breakfast he heard the people talking up there. Said, "Hey bring all the medicine men down here. A snake bite this lady forgot what her name was. Anyhow said- " way kway" was her name I remember it..said "snake bite waykway bring so and so here so he can doctor her." There wa a bunch of medicine men in the tent with that lady trying to get that
