

(Yeah, he is. I just wondered how the Kiowas came to get it?)

Bert: That peyote? (Yeah.) Oh, they got it from--oh, I couldn't tell you. I might tell a lie. They either got it from the Comanches or the Kiowas got it themselves. It could be a lie.

Trina: Well, they took Mr. Mooney to a peyote meeting, and he lost his diamond ring when he had eaten this peyote. I don't know if he wants to tell it or not (referring to Bert) but I just went and let the cat out of the bag. Grandpa--I was telling her about that time when James Mooney went peyote meeting and lost his diamond ring. Tell her about it.

Bert: Well it--

Trina: Whose place did you all go to?

Bert: Well that was down to my father's place down there 'a.tong'a

Trina: At the Gap, 'a.tong'a (Referring to Stumbling Bear Canyon, north of Mt. Scott)

Bert: At the Gap, 'a.tong'a (Right west of that place where we got the picture. He lost it some way. It slip out, you know, and he don't know where it went to. And nobody know where it went to.

Trina: Do you remember who all went to the peyote meeting with James Mooney?

Bert: Oh, he go with so many people. He don't stay one place. He go here and there and here and there. Pretty hard.

(Where was this picture taken?)

Bert: This picture was taken down there west of--(pause) west of-- (pause)

Trina: West of Mount Scott?
