

plenty of room there. There were three meetings. Good thing, or I'd have to have a meeting and set in somebody's lap. I was determined to go in. And this Saturday we're going to have a meeting down at Charlie High's. You know where the Apache Church is, west of Fort Bobb? Go west over the hill--just before you go over the hill. There's a lot of junk cars out there. You can park right there or--we're going to have it way down to the creek. The tipi be setting 'bout from here to the road from the house. This Saturday. I forgot who's going to run it. He told me but I forgot. I think it's a Kiowa. His wife is putting it on. And then we're planning a meeting for Easter. We're reorganized here last Thursday. See, Charilie High's the President, and Tom Bitseedy's Vice-President, and Elmer Jay will be Secretary and Treasurer. That's our new offical. And we took up a collection. We got $42.90. Just about ten of us. And that's how we're starting out. But further down the line we're gonna put on a little benefit dance by the Blackfoot. We're gonna help 'em raise funds. And just in case we have to help out over there in Houston or Austin--wherever they're gonna have this hearing--I don't know what it is. But Texas, says, that to transport or--But in this resolution we left out that "transport". We put in there "procure."

(Have you written the resolution up? Where is it?)

Yes. No I don't have a copy. I left it with him. He'd gonna send me a copy. They gonna send it down there to Austin or Houston. They got the address of the editor.

(Who is it that's going to send it down there?)

Old Ronnie Harris. He's the Secretary of State, Native American Church and Fred Hoffman. He's the President. And state officials. But they
