Background of Informant:

Cecil Horse was born in 1891 and is now living on his allotment 12 miles south of Carnegie. Cecil has been married to Jenny Haumpy over 50 years. He is one of the sons of Hunting Horse, well-known Kiowa who died in the mid-1950's at the age of about 107 years. Cecil is fairly well educated. He attended the J.J. Methvin Indian school and also Chillico. He became active in the Methodist Churches in this area. He has also had experience with the peyote religion. He is retired from active ministry now, but is very proud of his service in this respect. He is reported to have opposed the Native American Church as a minister, and his wife, Jenny, states "we are not pow-wow people, though we both used to dance and go to pow-wows." Nevertheless they attend celebrations such as the Gourd Dance at Carnegie around July 4, and other pow-wows and celebrations.

CONDITIONS OF INTERVIEW:

Interview took place in dining room of Cecil's home with Jenny present and contributing to the conversation. Cecil is hard of hearing and Jenny assists, therefore, both in English and Kiowa.
