

"No, I don't want to do nothing." Then before General Miles say anymore, he say, "If you not going to kill me get people good food, good water, good grass, good milk." Well, we can't move you to the western states that's the reason why I'm going to send you out east where nobody knows you. You live a long life that way. But you can't do nothing wrong, or you can't live down here. Alright.
