

Mabel Kirk
3-1-67

So I went on. So that Friday night came and I was all ready to go to the party. They call me upstairs and I went. They said, "Well, you go to bed and have your party upstairs." They tell me, "This is what you get. You pushed this Joe Matoke in the water." "I did," I said. I went to bed.

(Was he a Kickapoo boy?)

He was Potawatomie boy. He used to come visit me after he got out of school.

I say, "You sure got me in trouble one time, didn't you?"

(You said you quit school and got married?)

Yeah, I got married when I was sixteen.

(Did you meet your husband there at school?)

No. I met him out here. I didn't live with him too long. I didn't do any good.