

Uh-huh.

(Guess you remember lots of those people from living up there don't you?)

Yes. But these young ones I don't know 'em.

(But you traded in Atoka when you lived up there didn't you? Where were you married?)

Where?

(Uh-huh. In a Choctaw church?)

No. Justice----

(Justice of the Peace?)

Uh-huh.

(Was that in Atoka?)

Up here.

(Up here? Boswell?)

Uh-huh. Boswell.

(How old are you now?)

82.

(82? You feel pretty good?)

No. I don't feel good. I feel good sometimes and sometimes not. I had a stroke, oh, two times. And I like to get that stroke last night. I stay here by myself at night. My arm is gone dead and my legs and I fall down on the floor last night, and my right leg.....

(What time does the girl come to help you in the morning?)

About nine.

(Could you get up?)

Yeah. I could - at daylight. I try my best to get up from the floor and to bed.

(Have you been over to Talihina to the hospital?)

Oh, yeah. Three or four times. And I been to Hugo hospital in Paris, Texas. I lived in Paris, Texas. Had this eye operation, you know.

(What happened to your eyes?)
