

Ten to four I think they say. My nephew said he was going back to Oklahoma City. He's going to work all this week. We come home after that - about 3 o'clock.

(So he could go back to Oklahoma City?) (Do you think they'll have it again next year at homecoming time?)

Yeah. They will have it every year from now.

(That way the Indians can get together while the homecoming is going on.)

Uh-huh.

(Did you see some of your kinfolks you hadn't seen in a long time?)

At Homecoming? No. I didn't go.....

(Uh-huh. Peggy and Ruth?)

Peggy and Ruth? Yeah. I seen the old lady, from Battiest, Oklahoma. Hadn't seen in a long time. She come to me. I didn't know her. I just stay in camp house in shade up there. And they all come to see me. Somebody got me and they told 'em that I was at camp. And they come. They all have a good time up there. We not singing, but we talk. (Laughter)

(Had a good visit? You got a Choctaw bible? Choctaw hymn book?)

Yeah.

(Got any other books in Choctaw?)

That's all. A Testament and hymn book. I used to have a - David - Joshua, Genesis, and I don't know where they went to. I been buying it a long time and a long time I kept it but they all gone now.

(Well I've seen the Choctaw Hymnal and Testament, but there aren't very many Choctaw books around now.)

Are you Choctaw?

(Half.)

Half?
