

Supreme Being of some kind, where they always prayed, before and after any act. So, we can see from what ceremonies we witnessed--we know that our people must have been religious that way.

(End of Side A. Continued on Side B.)