

Well, it just the old people way, you know. Four was--four times. Whatever he got like you know, good blessing you know, four times.

Mrs. Osborne: Like we say, everytime just like this seance, you know this Native American. You know like somebody maybe they like the doctors, why they say why they finish it, they give it four times you know. They do anything, that use to be way back there, but now maybe, today, they didn't carry it out like that. It's just like we saying we're getting away from these things. Like when you put up something, like when your giving it the four time, well you say I completed it.

But that's our way, just one time if you start that off--just one time. Maybe later on few years back they start again like that. But not every year, just once in a while. It's different, they got it before. Some of them.

Mrs. Osborne: Like way back there give it one time and maybe there be time you feel like that again but it doesn't necessarily mean that you have to give it four times.

NEARLY ALL PARTICIPANTS IN DOCTOR DANCE ARE DOCTORS FOR DIFFERENT SICKNESSES

(Grant, in this Doctor Dance were the--were the performers all doctors in this Doctor dance?)

Most all of them yeah, all of them. They know little bit about different--different kind of sicknesses you know.

SEVERAL INCIDENTS INVOLVING INDIAN DOCTORING

Mrs. Osborne: Well, I was telling Ramona, Grant, about Henry Shooter, you know, when Henry Ray was just a little boy, you know he doctored him, you remember, up in town there and he was just--how old was he? He was born in April and then he died November the 11th, and wasn't the 11th on Armistice Day? He must be eight months old.

Mrs. Osborne: Eight months old. Maybe seven months old. They took him to hospital when he was 8 months old.

(What was the nature of this?)
