

But I just hear from different older people you know. They always tell me this and that but I just can't catch on how it is. If I go tell you this and that, somebody's going to come to me say, "Oh, you wasn't in that. You wasn't born, way years ago to catch on them stories." I don't want to tell that kind of story just my own stories--what I make up you know.

(What was the story about the fish in the ocean that Mary was talking about?)

Fish? Oh yeah yeah. Let see, what a minute. Don't try to record it now. I'm just going to think about it. See how it's--how I got it fixed. Well, this is the way I know about that big fish carried this young man across the ocean. You know, this young man when he was sleeping, you know, this light came to him. He don't know what kind of light it is. He was sleeping; He was sleeping had his head toward east, or west--anyway he was laying maybe toward west like this. It came to him. Everytime he gets into bed, that light comes on him. He don't know where this light is going--coming from. Young man. Like me in the early days and like you now. I don't know how young but lets say 20 or 22 or 23 years old. Something like that--when we able enough to know our dreams, something like that. Well this dream, I never dream it, but I'm just going to tell a story how it started you know. This story, where the light was coming from--it just a dream long years ago, a dream but I want make a story out of it, see how it works, but I tell the best way I can. The light came to me. The--evertime I sleep the light came to me. I'm just telling that story the way it come to me when I was sleeping you know. I just wanted to know what it is. So I decide--I got up and start walking toward the light, kept going, going--west. Going going. Just seen that light in the head of me. Kept going, going, going. Then late in the evening came. I slept. Put my foot on the west side and my head on the east side. I went to sleep. This coming to me every now and then. It just a dream but I'm telling you to how it infect me, you know. So next morning, I got up and went on Just a light. Just kept up kept up. Take me over there. I got up and start walking again. Walked all day, and all part of the afternoon. And late in the evening came. So I went off to sleep After I went off to sleep the light is still burnig you know. Just like this moon. A
