--when they start talking about us and about we were great grandchildrens of this man. You could see how I look. I was looking down and I was wondering, "Why in the world could I be half Arapaho and be the granddaughter of the of the man who's being buried here." I just thought it. I had my head down, you know. Here, I'm going to give you this one.

(Thank you. That's a good one. Thanks a whole lot.)

I ain't got no frames for the rest of them because I haven't been to Gibson's. You know, they got really pretty frames for cheap, you know, kind of $1.98. Going to get some frames they got. I guess I have to take it along andmeasure it? My nephew said he's going to get me some frames at the post. He going to have them made up there. I'm going to have them all in a line, like those others you gave me. He's going to fix them all in a row.

(I asked you befor about the egg that your mother gave you when she was teaching you to be a doctor, but I didn't understand. Could you tell me about it again?)

It supposed to be eagle's egg. I use that eagle feathers and doctor with it and it supposed to have that power in me so I could--you know I use them on Joey, those feathers and he came out of it just quick. (ALLUDING TO DOCTORING HER HUSBAND WHEN HE WAS SICK WITH THE FLUE)) That feather I have. When he was sick in there.

(When she gave you that egg, ware you just a little girl?)

Yeah, I was just a little girl. She went and talked and prayed and made me swallo it and way backo-you know, if I eat, be sitting at the table and eating, if anybody's got meat in the plate or in their hands they not allowed to go back of me. I can't get over it, up to today. And ever time I be watching people, when they eating and I just turn around, you know, and watch people, what they do bahind me and but way back in years, my cousin was telling my mother, "I don't like the way she is now. There's a lot of kids, a lot of people, they don't care for her after you all pass away." Sure enough, it went that way. And my mother took it out of me.

(The egg?)

Yeah. Prayed and done something and it just come out of my stomach--mouth and
