

some Christys and there's several old tombstones. And one time there was one fell over and (not clear). They clean it off every spring. Joe comes out and him and Lester cleans it off and rakes it and burns trash. It needs it now. He said the other day, said "Well as soon as I get through plowing these folks garden." He's got to go over and fix Nancy's garden and my sister's and he is wanting to plant some potatoes and plow a little more.

(Nancy lives up in Kansas don't they?)

Yeah. But they got a lot of their stuff already down here.

(She is going to move back?)

Third Voice: Oh, they're goin' to move back?

Un Hunnh. They got the electricity in d'way before yesterday. Night before last we was up there and they got 'em a yard light in. Orville had been wiring his stove up and his hot water heater and they came out and put the wire up and--

(The old Stony Point school--course that's been torn down I guess. Is that where the grave yard is?)

Yeah. Right out there close to it. You know there where that old log house is there?

Third Voice: It was right there close to--

(And you went to school there too?)

Yes I went to school there.

Third Voice: I did too.

STORY - FEAR OF MAD DOG AND CLIMBING A TREE

Yeah. He went. I tell you a good one on Jim one time. We had two dogs and half of the time when we'd go to school they'd go with us
