

three, and four. But they've added some since then.

(Two more I know of now.)

Home #I was for big boys, home #II was little boys, and home #III was for smaller girls and home #IV was for large girls.

(What year did you start up there?)

I went there first, one year in about 1917, then I quit and went back in the fall of '22 and stayed whole year. Finished.

(Well, that was an interesting experience for me. I know it was for all of us.)

Yeah.

(Cause lot of them wouldn't have got any education if they hadn't have gone.)

That's right.

(But you know a lot of them ran off though?)

Yeah.

(Get home sick and--)

You know, Swimmer Baldrige?

(Yeah, I know him.)

He lives out here at the county line, maybe. From Rogers County line you go north about a mile. That's on highway twenty towards Claremore.

(I'll try to find him. Swimmer Baldrige.)

Jack--of course he'd been dead a long time. You probably knowed him didn't he?

(Yes.)

I used to tell Swimmer if it hadn't been for Jack I would starved to death when I first went up to Chilocco. He worked in the bakery and they
