

brought his family the meat.. And they brought him a horse and a new gun. Otherwise there would have been trouble. Members of the organization donated that to prove there was no ill will. It was just their duty.