

'course after we got up any size and any age, we had to get up and get breakfast. Mother didn't get up and get breakfast. We got up and got breakfast. Father got the - 'course he didn't have not boys until later years - he had a couple. 'Course I had brothers but they - my oldest brother got killed. So there was just us girls, and he'd get the nephews up and make 'em go feed and 'tend to the horses and mules before breakfast. And it was 4 o'clock - we had to get up at 4 o'clock every morning. That's his time to get everybody out of bed - at 4 o'clock. Mother didn't get up till she got ready to get up. But now we had - when we set down to the table, we know enough not to set down there 'til he turned thanks.

MRS. VANN TIBBS HELPS THE CHURCH WOMEN WITH QUILT MAKING

(Static interference)...Sunday School and church all tore up and everybody went (static) when they do, I get out and I'll scour around all over the country and everywhere, Muskogee, and Waggoner, and Porter, I can, and everywhere I scour around, I even go to Coweta around, huntin' people that's got woment that's got quilts that wanted some quilts - wanted them quilted. Well, these ladies 'll quilt 'em for a nickel a spool or for $3.25 and finish a quilt for - finish one quilt for $3.25. It's quilted and hemmed ready for you to use. If you bring the quilt in.

(Well, those Indian women there at Vann's church - they must really be good workers.)

They are good workers and I've tried to help 'em. I was up and talking to 'em today. They said they sure appreciated that I had done for 'em. I rustle everywhere I can for quilts for 'em. I've been to Okay and all around huntin' people to get hold of quilts fer to help 'em. And now they - the ladies have quilted enough quilts that they have built that extra room on there.

(Well isn't that nice?)
