

(Cheyenne) She said there may be nobody is taking interest in his wishes. She said if somebody would just encourage what he wanted to do and support it for him, she said it would happen in the way he wanted it. But now, she said, he knows that nobody cares. They just dropped it and let it go.

(Did they have special kinds of songs?)

(Cheyenne) Yes. (Kate speaks Cheyenne) She said each group had his own song. Soon as they sing this song well, they meant him and his bunch.

(What do you mean by each group--do you mean like the war bonnets?)

No, these didn't wear war bonnets. You're getting it mixed up with the other group (Lantern Dance). She just used that as an example. She told me, "You know this Light Dance," she said. "It's similar to that," she said. See, they didn't wear--see, these (War Dancers) didn't wear war bonnets.

(The War Dancers didn't wear war bonnets.)

No. She told you they wore that porcupine headdress (Roach)

(Well, by each group having their own song, you mean each group within the War Dancers?)

No. The drummers had their own songs, and the bustles--the ones that wore the bustles had--

SIDE B

Kate: (speaks Cheyenne)

Birdie: She said this Roy Nightwalker is always so interested in things like that. He always wants to be at the head of everything. The reason this Frank Pawpaw wanted to do it, he was going to give him his place because Roy asked for this. That's one reason he
