Empty room Both of these was enapty. Welly this friend of mine's wife, my wife's cousin, she died in this room. And they say if anybody dies in a room, their spirit netrar leaves that room. And they', re the ones that cause this fact to twist up--spirit-owls. Well, I didn't believe it. Wee was living there and my wife--it must have been about lleven or twelve o'clock. I--Somewhere in around there--well, anyway, we were asléep and hac a-- we done blowed out our light, and it was kinda moon' light, and these boys was sleeping in here. I don't know what it was, but we were sleeping and these two. boys-- one of 'em mist of been about twelve, and the other one was qbout ten -- skeeping in the same bed. The said they wasn't asleep yet. This door', somebody opened this door. They said somebody opened this door.'First befere he opened it (Guy knocks on the table) he knocked on it. Knocked. on the door and they start to sit up and listen. gee who it was. They know that the house- the room -- was empty. And there was a outside door over here, but it was locked, and this was locked. 1They knowed--somebody knock on that door and they sit up and somebody open the door and start to come in. And they saw it, and it didn't look like a human, so they jump out of bed and they run in there. 'They run í here. They fun inta our bedroom and they said, "Something,s/coming' in our room. Something's come in our room." LAnd, it was sort of moonlight but. we didn't have no lamp. We didn't have no. electricity. $1 A n d i$ knew that the outside door .--iroom was empty. "Inere ain't nothing in there-- you'go back In there.". . "No, "", they.said, "Something open the door. Knock on there and open the door."' And I come in there. I took some matches and the door was shut. After I come in, the door shut. I open the door. As I open the door it look like a whiff went over my face--I cquld feel a wind. I didn't see nothing, but I felt a wind. And I struck the matches, and sure enough, there ain't
