

(Well, when Old Man Haumpy started using it, where did he used to camp?
Where did he live around here?)

(Jennie: They used to live on this hills-(refers to "slick hills" on north side of Wichita Mts.) They say my grandma was living at--)

There wasn't no houses at that time yet. Government has never issued them no houses. But they live in tipi's. Now they used to live right back in here in the canyon. And then they use to live at Mount Scott.
Right in below Mears and Mt. Scott over there. That's where they use to live. In them woods, edlge of the mountains. The reason they do that, they go because they had no stove. But they go into timber, where there's big timber and a lot of wood. There they stay and live there.
Till later years when the government issued houses and so on--when they alloted them in other words they give them 160 acres. And then they came and they began to build houses and develop that way.

(Well, does that canyon have a name?)

Only name that I know is the Clancy's Canyon. But I don't know--

(Clancy's Cangón?)

(Says something in Kiowa to Jenny.)

(How far is it from here?)

How far is it from here?

(Yeah from your house?)

It's let's see, wait--about this one here just about--one, two, three-- about three miles and a half. But the other canyon the Stumbling Bear, about Stumbling Bear's Canyon, is way back, maybe 11 or 12 miles from here.

(South?)

Yeah--it's--
