

And after everybody is gone, nobody around. But the enemy never showed up so this woman and that girl got up. She just went walking. Got to 'so far and she can't go anymore, got all in. Played out. Little girl was going there and she wanted water; no water. Difficult. Then somebody came to them. Told this woman, "You pretty sick. Let that little girl get that medicine. That thing over there, let her get it. That peyote." Give it to that woman and she eat it. I don't care how dry, how hot. That thing always got a juice in it. So she eat that. And this person that came to see them, told them, "In just a little while you are going to get up. You are going to get well. I've come here to help you. I was sent down here to help you." So she took that medicine, eat it. That little girl took some of it. She didn't want anymore water. Got to feeling good. Told her, "Now, you follow your people. You'll find them." That's the time they told her to tell her people to stop their fighting. Looting that herds, you know. Quite that, you know. Get along with everybody. Pray with everybody. So ever since then, they've used it, the way they use it now. But way before that they use it in war time.

(I was wondering what the meaning of the Moon in the meetings is. Does it stand for something?)

Well, the best I understand that--you say you've been in a few meetings, right? You know what kind of feeling you have when you--how much is most you ever eat?

(Fourteen.)

Well, that's good enough. If you eat that many, you have been in a meeting several times, over just several years, you will kind of understand the meanings of that Moon. That, and everything. That Moon is supposed to be the track of the mule that Jesus Christ rode. And the fire, that's our life; like your heart.

(I got that one. I kind of had my own way of thinking about it but I was interested if they had special meanings; special things you were supposed to think about in a meeting.)

Well, you got to be that way. You got to have your own way of thinking. But I don't know--I don't think there's a--any two persons could sing exactly right
